No. 16 OF 1954.

A LAW TO AMEND THE FORESHORE PROTECTION LAW. CAP. 92

R. P. ARMITAGE,]

[10th March, 1954.

Governor.

BE it enacted by His Excellency the Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony of Cyprus as follows :—

1. This Law may be cited as the Foreshore Protection Short title.
(Amendment) Law, 1954, and shall be read as one with the Foreshore Protection Law (hereinafter referred to as “the Cap. 92 principal Law”).

Amendment of section 3 of the principal Law.

2. Section 3 of the principal Law is hereby amended by the substitution for sub-section 3 thereof of the following sub-section :—

“(3) Any person who after the publication of a notice under sub-section (1) of this section contravenes the terms of the same shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable to imprisonment not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and fine and the Court before which he is convicted may, in addition to such penalty, order such person—

- (a) to pay to public revenue the value of any stones, shingle, gravel, sand or other substance in respect of which the offence has been committed ;
- (b) to remove at his expense any rubble, rubbish, sweepings, litter, night-soil or other refuse dumped in contravention of the notice.”

Amendment
of the principal Law by the insertion of new section 3A.

3. The principal Law is hereby amended by the insertion therein immediately after section 3 of the following section :—

“Power to police officers to stop, search, seize and detain any conveyance.

3A.—(1) Any police officer may upon reasonable suspicion stop and search any means of conveyance for the purposes of ascertaining whether an offence under sub-section (3) of section 3 of this Law has been committed and may seize any such means of conveyance with any material found therein.

(2) Any such means of conveyance and materials seized under sub-section (1) of this section shall be detained at the nearest police station for a period not exceeding forty-eight hours unless in the meantime the Commissioner or, in case of criminal proceedings being taken, the Court, before which such proceedings are instituted, otherwise directs.

(3) Any person in charge of any means of conveyance who refuses to stop or allow a search or seizure when required by a police officer under sub-section (1) of this section, shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable to imprisonment not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and fine.”

4. Section 4 of the principal Law is hereby repealed and the following section substituted therefor :—

“Restriction upon structures, etc., on foreshore.

4.—(1) No person shall erect on the foreshore any hut, booth or any other structure or shall place on the foreshore or allow thereon any boat without a permit from the Commissioner first obtained and no owner or keeper of a coffee-house or restaurant shall place on the foreshore any chairs or tables without a permit from the Commissioner first obtained.

(2) Any person who acts in contravention of any of the provisions of sub-section (1) of this section shall be guilty of an offence and shall be liable to imprisonment not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds or to both such imprisonment and fine and the Court before which such person is convicted may in addition to any such penalty order the removal at the expense of such person of any hut, booth or other structure erected or any boat placed or allowed on any part of the foreshore in contravention of the said sub-section.”

Repeal of section 4 of the principal Law and substitution of new section.

10th March, 1954.

J. FLETCHER-COOKE,
Colonial Secretary.
